Heat for 43,000 on Waiting List

Northern Illinois Gas Company is planning to send out authorization letters to about 43,000 on its residential space heat waiting list next week according to Marvin Chandler, the utility's president. The current release will cover all on the company's waiting list who applied prior to about the beginning of 1957. (Specifically, on or before Feb. 7, 1957, for existing homes (homes occupied when applications were made) and on or before Jan. 11, 1957, for individual new homes (homes not occupied on date when applications were made)).

"We were pleased to be informed late today (Dec. 19) that full clearance had been received from the Federal Power Commission by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America for the remaining portion (85 million cubic feet) of that company's original petition to bring an additional 185 million cubic feet of natural gas daily to the Chicagoland area."

Last summer the FPC granted Natural Gas Pipeline permission to proceed with plans covering 100 million of the original request for delivery of 185 million cubic feet of natural gas daily to the Chicagoland area. Ni-Gas' share of about 33 million cubic feet daily made possible 35,000 authorizations on July 31.

Chandler said that Northern Illinois Gas Company's share of the newly-authorized Natural Gas Pipeline's daily increment will be 28 million cubic feet.

"A review of the company's present natural gas pipeline supplies and peak shaving facilities plus this further pipeline gas indicates we can now issue about 43,000 additional authorizations," Chandler explained.

"While this new supply helps," Chandler noted, "we are also hopeful that we can obtain additional supplies (for which Ni-Gas has contracted) of more than 110 million cubic feet in time for the 1959-60 peak season."

He pointed out that when these authorizations are connected, Ni-Gas will be supplying natural gas to heat approximately 320,000 homes in its 20-county service territory in northern Illinois. A waiting list of about 70,000 still remains, Chandler said.

State Scholarships

17 Area Students Semi-Finalists

Six Lincoln-Way High school students and 11 from Carl Sandburg are among the 3,718 semi-finalists announced Tuesday by the Illinois state scholarship commissions. These students have been selected from more than 16,000 high school seniors who completed the three hour examination given Nov. 22 on 70 college and university campuses in Illinois. This is the second year state scholarships have been offered to Illinois residents. The examination was drawn up for the scholarship commission by Science Research Associates of Chicago.

The Lincoln-Way winners, all seniors of course, are Dona Anderson, Marie LaVinn, both of New Lenox; Patricia Bradley, Frankfort; Wayne Kasing, New Lenox; Charles Otto Frankfort and James Landfried, Mokena.

Sandburg winners are: Mary Ann Merwin, Robert Stoutenour, Reed Williams, and Robert DeVoursney, Orland Park; Norman Behn and Philip Yurtis, Palos Heights; William Johnson, Arlene Kamis, Merle Martin, Mehlin Smith, all of Palos Park, and Robert Stellwagen, Tinley Park.

They have been notified of their selection individually by the commission and furnished with application blanks which must be filled out and sent in not later than Jan. 15.

On these blanks the student lists the college of his choice; his course of study and whether he may need some financial assistance in getting thru college.

It will be sometime in March before selection of the finalists has been completed and the results made public.

Each scholarship is renewable for the normal four year undergraduate program, if student

Holiday Traffic Violators to get Works

"Traffic Condition Red", a state-wide alert aimed at reducing Illinois traffic accidents during the Christmas holiday, goes into effect at 6 p.m. tonight.

Robert A. Campbell, State Co-ordinator of Traffic Safety, said today, "the alert is to warn motorists of the increased danger in driving during the holiday."

The alert also will serve notice that all Illinois police agencies have begun an all-out enforcement campaign, Campbell said.

During the alert, which will last until midnight, Dec. 23, the entire 1,167-man state police force, local authorities and three air patrols will be utilized in a stepped up traffic law enforcement program.

State Police Chief William Morris said his troopers will be severe with traffic law violators and no warning tickets will be issued by state police during the holidays. All violators will be cited, Morris said.

"A strict enforcement policy is the best way to keep holiday accidents and fatalities to a minimum," Morris said.

Both state and local authorities said they will crack down especially on speeding, drunk driving and failure to observe

Start Plans For Addition to Lincoln-Way High

Voters of Lincoln-Way high school district approved a $500,000 bond issue last Saturday to provide funds to build an addition to the plant. The addition is necessary because of a steadily growing enrollment.

There was a small vote cast less than 1,300. Of this number 755 were in favor of the expansion program and 539 against. It carried in all precincts. Altho only 81 votes were cast in Lincoln Estates, it was there that the proposition carried best. It was approved there about four to one.

The district was divided into five voting precincts. The vote in each was:

	Yes	No
New Lenox	297	190
Frankfort	152	125
Lincoln Estates	64	17
Mokena	158	125
Manhattan	84	82
Totals	755	539

The controversy over tax assessments in New Lenox township may have brought out some negative votes in that township, it was said, and probably these would have been more but for the fact that the Taxpayers Equality Association, which launched the fight on inequities revealed in the tax assessment rolls, campaigned strongly for the bond issue. Another group, calling itself the Frankfort Township Taxpayers Association, was the only organized opposition to the bond issue.

Childs and Smith, architects were notified Monday by Superintendent A. Hunter Chapman that the bond issue had been carried and they reported that they would start on the working drawings immediately. It was expected that it would be about two months to complete this phase of the program and they hoped to get bids around the first of April. If this schedule is carried out work on the addition should begin before May, it was hoped.

The board would like to have the addition ready for use by September, 1960. The plans include several classrooms, a multi-purpose room and additions to the boys' and girls' locker rooms.

The community unit district that is under consideration in Joliet does not, of course, affect the Lincoln-Way high school district but it does include five sections in the New Lenox grade school district that are also a part of the Joliet high school district. The area is in the northwest part of New Lenox township. It is said that the New Lenox grade school district would be better off without these sections because of the transportation problem involved.

The only thing the unit district program does to the New Lenox grade district is that it cannot hold a bond election until the unit petition is finally disposed of, it was explained.

Communities Get Sales Tax Returns For September

Most communities received an increased share of September's state sales tax. Tinley Park received $2,472., New Lenox $1,278., Mokena $629., Frankfort $613., and Orland Park $587.

The services at St. Anthony church, Lincoln Estates will be at the following times: midnight, 8 a.m. and 9 a.m.

Plan Campaign

Will Begin Drive for Fire House Fund at Mokena After 1st of Year

The house to house fund campaign for the proposed Mokena fire house has been put over until after the holidays, it was announced by those in charge.

The drive will be held sometime after the first of the year. The department, which is a community volunteer organization which responds to all alarms in the area without question or fee, purchased a lot on Front street, near Midland ave., in Mokena recently and proposes to erect a structure there that will accommodate its equipment and a space where members can conduct their meetings. It is estimated the building will cost about $18,000.

The department now uses the village hall but that place is too small to house the equipment. As a result one piece of equipment, a tanker, must be left outside—a fact that leaves it practically useless in real cold weather. And when the temperature is near zero, it was pointed out, that is the time when most fires occur.

Meanwhile, the department has sent out a letter to all residents of the Mokena area explaining the program. The Mokena department does not share in any tax money and must depend solely upon contributions by the householders and business people.

Usually such contributions are made by the purchase of tickets for the annual dance sponsored by the department. It was 12 years ago that the department made its last door-to-door appeal for direct subscriptions to a fund raised to purchase a pumper.

Realizing that the holidays probably have left many of the people in the area somewhat short of cash, the fire department has announced that it will be glad to take pledges, with the payments to be made over a three-month period.

The department's membership will be divided into two-man teams for the actual solicitation of funds, it was explained.

Officers of Plan Commission Are Re-Elected

At its regular meeting Wednesday, Dec. 17, the Mokena Plan Commission re-elected Maurice P. Angland, chairman; Albert Kuchenbecker, vice chairman; and Leo Marcoux as secretary-treasurer, to serve for the year 1959.

Mayor James Marti also announced appointments to fill vacancies on the Commission and of those members whose terms expire with the year end. He advised the Commission that his appointment were made with the objective of having representation for both the Village of Mokena and the area outside the village limits which will come under village controls under state law when the master plan has been filed. He was also desirous of appointing members who are willing to devote the time and energy necessary.

The 1959 Plan Commission will be: Maurice P. Angland, Eric Book, Les Brownlee, Elias Brown, Arthur Jackson, Lawrence Kohl, Albert Kuchenbecker, Fred Lehmann, Leo Marcoux, Berle Needham, and Henry Shevlin.

Elias Brown is Toastmaster at New Lenox Club

New Lenox Toastmasters held their regular dinner meeting Monday in the New Lenox Methodist church. Ladies of the church served the dinner in the Fellowship hall of the Sunday school.

Elias Brown, of Mokena, was toastmaster. Formal speeches were made by: John Burlingame, "The Good Old Days", by Lloyd Lindstrom, "Christmas U.S.A.", and by Ronald Whitaker, "The End of the Beginning".

Ronald Whitaker's speech was his twelfth before the club, completing his preliminary group covering various phases of speech presentation and entitling him to proceed into more advanced training.

Speeches and meeting were evaluated by William Heidrich, with the assistance of Lew Loebe and Glenn Conschalk, area lieutenant-governor of Toastmasters.

New Lenox Tax Mix-Up Traced To Clerical Error

Clerical errors in the department of assessments at the Will county treasurer's office were found responsible for the marked inequalities and variances in the assessment roll recently published covering lots and lands in New Lenox township.

An investigation was launched at the court house following protests on the assessments by the New Lenox Taxpayers Equality Association.

Meade Baltz, chairman of the county board of supervisors and as such chairman of the board of review which has the last word on valuations; Roy Doerfler, who took office only this month as county treasurer and so had no connection with assessments made this year; Floyd H. Krapf, of Green Garden, whose term as treasurer has just ended, and State's Attorney Frank H. Masters went into a huddle last week. After talking with probably a dozen persons they discovered that there had been a misunderstanding of instructions relative to the New Lenox books and the process of preparing them had been reversed in part. Some of the figures were entered properly but in a portion of the book they were all in error because old figures had been mistakenly set down for new.

The "how" part of the puzzle having been solved there still remains another part—"what is to be done?"

At the present writing no decision has been reached as to the course to be followed.

Should a reassessment be made?

Who could order such a step?

Should the board of review make adjustments?

Should new books be prepared using the figures prepared by the department of assessments in the treasurer's office, only this time entered correctly?

Should the assessment list be re-published and if so who has authority to order such publication?

These and many other questions of a technical, legal nature are now being studied and those in charge expect an early solution.

The original assessment turned in this year by the New Lenox assessor, George Marshall, was declared to be too low and a re-assessment was made under the direction of James Davis, in charge of the department of assessments. By the time the rolls were finally ready for publication it was December. The board of review had originally fixed Dec. 18 as the deadline for any complaints but when it was discovered there were many errors in the list Chairman Baltz extended the time for such hearings pending further study. Complaints are still being received.

The annual fee is $4 for each passenger vehicle and trucks that do not exceed 1 1/2 tons capacity. Motorcycles and motor bicycles tags carry a fee of $3 and for trucks over 1 1/2 tons a tag costs $8.

It will be unlawful for any resident to operate a motor vehicle on the streets of the city after Jan. 1, 1959 without a tag. Residents are urged to get them now.

Each resident of the community has received a letter from the members of the city council giving an accounting of activities and accomplishments of elected officials since they assumed office in September, 1958.

ZONING COMMISSION

The planning and zoning commission has received from the City Council a proposed subdivision plat for Unit VII which will extend from Flossmoor road on the south to approximately 189th street on the north and from Cicero avenue on the west to Baer avenue on the east.

Typical lot sizes will be 75 x 135 feet or 10,125 square feet total as proposed.

The proposed area will include 219 lots with a commercial area of 2.8 acres at the corner of Cicero avenue and Flossmoor road.

This proposal is now under study by the planning and zoning commission.

There is also a proposal for re-subdivision in the hands of the Commission which will vacate approximately nine acres to be set aside for public use (parks etc.) in the vicinity of Baker avenue and running north of 187th street.

Donald Schwenk, chairman, announced that the proposed zoning ordinance is now complete and announcement of a public hearing will be made shortly.

At the recent school board meeting the board gave authority to include a program of art and music at the junior high school level and also the employment of a person to assist the staff members in this program.

The members also have authorized the use of Ray White-side to act as attorney for the board of education.

Acting as mannequins were Lillian Thomas, Joyce Olson, Phyllis Livingston, Marie Younkers, Mary McDonald, Delores Kuznicki, Delores McGrath and Edna Thacker.

The women also exchanged hilarious grab bag gifts, played games and a good time was had by all.

Those who took parts were: Evelyn Ebert, Ted Kraefft Jr., Gary Van Horn, Sammy Sokolowski, Joe Shank, Sandra Raddatz, Katherine White, Pat Barthel, Ray Bergmann, Jr., Bill Barthel, and Lloyd Belcher. Alice Mackenzie was in charge of the lovely program assisted by Eva Hoewing. Other workers were: Bob Landeen, Art Ebert, Lois Pew, and many teachers who helped with their classes.

Another feature of the program was the "Night Before Christmas", Zenon Sykuta was St. Nick, and the Norm Olson family also had part. Two and three year olds in sleepers also enjoyed their bit in the program. Children toys or clothing wrapped brought "White Gifts", in white, for our orphanage in St. Louis as a special feature to help them appreciate the meaning of Christmas. After the evening program, several family groups struck out in the snow to go caroling and a good time was had by all.

The church is planning a lovely Christmas Eve service at 7:30, Dec. 24. The meditation and music will be quite different and unique and all in the community are urged to join in this meaningful 45 minute service. A Nursery will be provided in the school building No. 3.

The Christian Women's Fellowship was held Wednesday night in the Thomas Lane school. Hazel Marquardsen has charge of the worship.

The Rev. Wendell Pew, pastor, sang "O Holy Night" and Gloria Arntstead presented a monologue on the Christmas theme. Refreshments were served by Naomi group.

Merry Christmas

We are in a mellow mood. Our blood pressure is pacing along at an even, normal gait. Our boiling or flash point seems to be firmly under control and our indignation—the righteous type of course—which can generate a fair head of steam on fairly quick notice, has apparently gone off on a trip to some sunny clime and if any seething is done it will be done there.

We have no desire to scold, nor pontificate. Ordinarily such a condition might cause alarm and send us rushing to consult our neighbor on this page who writes the health column, for we might well believe that we were sick—sick—sick!

But a glance at the calendar is sufficient. At this time of the rolling year—to borrow from creator of Tiny Tim—we are always in a mellow frame of mind. And we trust that use of the word "mellow" will not be misconstrued. For to record we should like to state that the word "mellow" has no connection with any spirits, either living, dead or bottled.

Christmas time should be a joyous time. There is no room in this season for arguments, quarrels or strife. We have them, human nature being what it is, but on the whole people's better nature seems to prevail at the yuletide.

People are more aware of injustices, of the needs of their fellow beings, and endeavor to correct or meet them.

Thanksgiving is usually described as a family day. Christmas time is not only a family time but the stranger is welcome too. Christmas time is also the time when old friends take time out from the rush everyone seems to be in at this season to visit and recall happy moments they have shared. This really is an amazing thing! It is magic—Christmas magic! And under its spell people whose time is so taken the rest of the year that an occasional telephone call is their only chance to keep in touch with friends, re-discover at Christmas time that friendship is a precious thing and suddenly find time, despite all the rushing, running, holiday hurry, to write or call on old friends.

Christmas magic is indeed potent stuff. It makes folks kinder, it makes people more tolerant, it makes it easier for them to smile—and really mean it.

"Peace on earth, good will toward men," the angels sang on that first Christmas night. Too many of us shake our heads and say it can never be, that men are too greedy, too selfish.

But if all of us would keep Christmas in our hearts thru the whole year instead of confining it to a couple of weeks in December the promise in the song of the angels would be fulfilled.

Meanwhile, from all of us to all of you: Merry Christmas!

Back Trouble

An acquaintance of mine, a mattress manufacturer, once consulted me because his back troubled him. After I had completed my examination, I told him that he had a solution to his back problem in his own factory. He replied that I must be wrong because he had been using a very firm mattress for six months without relief. However, as I quickly learned, this patient always sleeps on his side or stomach—in these positions no mattress does much good.

This brief anecdote is typical of the great lack of understanding about the common backache—even the mattress manufacturer may not always know how to apply his own product to the problem.

Most backaches occur across the lower back, not too far above the end of the spine. The ache may be present on arising in the morning—the back feels stiff. After one moves around a bit the back feels better, it limbers up. However as the day wears on, the back tends to feel tired and then begins to ache again. Lifting heavy objects or excessive bending worsens these symptoms. Occasionally there may be sharp, shooting pains or soreness extending down the back of either thigh.

These are the types of complaints most commonly associated with back trouble. There are several causes of this type of difficulty. It is rarely due to kidney disease—pain from the kidney occurs higher up, just below the lowest ribs.

Pain can arise from any one of the structures that are part of the lower back: the bones which form the spinal column, the strong muscles which support the trunk, the ligaments which bind the spinal bones to each other and to the pelvic bones, or the nerves which leave the spinal cord in this area. In addition, certain abnormalities of circulation or the female organs can also produce low back pain.

Thus it is a complicated problem and often it requires a thorough examination by the doctor, including x-rays of the spine, to determine the precise cause for the pain. Although most backaches are not serious medical problems, occasionally a condition producing low back pain requires fairly urgent diagnosis and treatment. Hence it is important to consult your physician without excessive delay if a backache persists.

The great majority of backaches are described in medical terms as "low back strain." Frequently the patient can recall an old athletic injury or fall that started off the symptoms. Many times there has been no injury but the patient does heavy labor and may also be overweight. Under these circumstances the trouble is due to repeated or constant strain of the muscles or ligaments that are located in the area of pain. Rarely are bones "out of place" or nerves "being pinched." Significant bone or nerve abnormalities almost always force the patient to seek medical help without delay.

The treatment for the common back disorders is usually simple and successful if the patient follows instructions faithfully. It involves exercise to strengthen the muscles, resting and sleeping on one's

Plan Repeat of PTA Leadership Training Program in the Spring

Concluding a 10 week series of instruction recently trainees from Dist. 19, PTA, in a parent education lay leadership training course have received certificates of recognition to that effect.

Held weekly in the Miller room of the Memorial YMCA at Harvey, class members represent 14 communities in south Cook County.

Mrs. Richard Piehl, 2044 High Street, Blue Island, district assistant in Parent Education, was assisted in organizing the course for district 19 by Mrs. Anthony Blasi, 8733 California Avenue, Evergreen Park. Advisors in the course were Mrs. Edmund Jaracz, 76 W. Hickory, Chicago Heights; Mrs. Charles Barr, 21320 Kildare Avenue, Matteson, and Mrs. Russell Martin, Route 30, Matteson.

Trainees begin with a study of child development—physical, intellectual, emotional and social. Study material includes recommended books and pamphlets, articles in the National Parent-Teacher magazine and group discussion of this material, where techniques are learned.

They are then divided into small sub-groups where each group chooses a topic, studies, and makes advance preparation as a unit, for demonstration before the large group.

Techniques are varied in demonstration groups; lecture, symposium, panel, round-table, skits and role playing. Radio, TV, movies, films, puppets and dramatization are some additional resources to bring interest and discussion to a high level.

Local PTA units can now take advantage of their new leader's training.

Persons interested in this type of endeavor will have an opportunity to enroll in a leadership class in September, 1959, when this course will be repeated. Local PTA presidents will be supplied with all necessary information in the spring.

by
GLENN F. LOGAN

According to the astronomer the longest day of the year comes in June. Perhaps the astronomer have forgotten they were once children. If they remembered that they might revise their data.

The longest day in the year for millions of children is the day before Christmas.

It is long enough in households where the Christmas packages are opened late on Christmas eve. But for youngsters in families where the gifts are not seen until Christmas day, each hour becomes a full year and the waiting is almost unbearable.

What Santa will bring becomes not a mere $64,000 question. Suspense and anticipation has built it up at least to $64 million and many an excited moppet would shriekingly make it trillions.

Apparently Santa has softened up in the past several decades or else has a new system of bookkeeping. He still frowns on misconduct but doesn't cut off all hope for the bad.

When this writer was young Santa Claus was somewhat sterner. When good children hung up their stockings on Christmas eve they could go to bed with some assurance that when day finally dawned they would find that good St. Nick had filled the stockings with candy, nuts and oranges.

But if one were bad? It made one shudder to think of the dismal fate that awaited those fallen from grace. They weren't just cut off, and their stockings left empty. Oh no. That way onlookers might think that Santa had been so tired from his long trip and going up and down chimneys that he simply overlooked the stocking, or conceivably, had run out of supplies.

No, there must be no doubt and the grown-ups were not slow in publicizing the end result. If one were bad, that is bad enough to be so listed on St. Nick's books, he could expect to find his stockings filled with ashes and topped off with a heavy switch or whip.

I never saw such a stocking nor did I ever hear, at first hand, of any friends or acquaintances who received one. It was always some boy in another part of town. And of course, other towns had many youths whose transgressions had doomed them to a switch and ashes at Christmas time.

We loved good St. Nick but we also had a wholesome respect for the old fellow. He cast a long shadow indeed and his arm was even longer than that vague but terrifying figure in our minds that represented federal authority, thought of and referred to in awed tones as The Government.

To do anything that might bring down upon the offender the wrath of either of these two personages was too risky for most of us to consider.

I recall one occasion when we were having a wonderful time throwing mudballs at each other. One of the boys ducked just as a particularly large earthen missile came zooming at him from close range, and it splattered all over a mailbox before which he had been standing.

Everyone instantly froze. We were stunned. Then we came to life. Mudballs and arms were dropped and we fled. For days after we lived in terror, fearful that any moment the man we thought of as The Government would come for us and to make matters worse someone suggested that perhaps Santa Claus in his omniscience had noted the deed and had marked it down. Santa, we were sure, would be on the side of The Government.

The boy who threw the mud caught most of our displeasure but the youngster who dodged was blamed too. Far better for him to have been splattered than The Government's mailbox. Government property was sacrosanct in those days.

As days and weeks passed and no one came for us we began to feel easier but didn't figure we were really in the clear until Christmas came and went without ashes and switches in our stockings.

My grandfathers, both of whom were born in Kentucky, used to entertain me with stories of Christmas there when they were boys. One of the traditions that made me envious was the custom of men and boys to arm themselves with rifles and pistols and then start out Christmas morning to make calls.

They would endeavor to approach a house unseen, loose a volley—in the air of course—and at the same time shout, "Christmas Gift." If successful the householder had to treat the callers.

On the other hand, if the householder saw them in time for him to fire a gun and yell "Christmas Gift," he did not have to stand treat. However, few clung to the letter of the rules and regardless of who shot or hollered first, food and drink were set out and when the group left the householder usually went with it.

In the deep south firecrackers were always a part of the Christmas celebration and when I was a youngster in Missouri we too had firecrackers at Christmas.

But no one ever thought of using them to set a booby trap for Santa. He was a jolly old fellow alright, but he carried switches and whips in his pack. Remember? And he could use them too. Look at the speed he gets out of those reindeer.

Xmas is Word of Christian Origin

Many people think that the word Xmas has a pagan origin. However, the word is originally Christian - adopted centuries ago.

In the ancient Greek, the letter for Christ looks like our "X" and when translated into English is written "C" and pronounced "KI". The early Christians used "X" to represent Christ.

Thus we have Xmas meaning the Mass of Christ.

Bremen Loses Third; Oaks Free Tosses Sink L-W

Reavis Basketeers Nose Out Braves; Losers Rally but too Late

Bremen has absorbed its third straight setback in the SW Suburban League on Friday evening at Reavis high school in Oak Lawn, 67-64.

This was a must game for Bremen! It became a lost one!

The talent of the Braves is now questionable!

Even if they have it (in basketball parlance)—can they come off the deck to defeat a Rich team that looks better each and every week.

It is a feast and then a famine for the Braves. After pasting Blue Island, the Red Men seem content to rest on that laurel! However, at this point, they helped Reavis to its first league verdict.

The famine has lasted for three games and the season's ledger now stands at 3-4.

As one fan commented, "It looks like Bremen is out of it! Maybe, that Lincoln-Way 4-point win is about the calibre of the Braves."

Bremen has been getting plenty of shots, but of late—gets rolling about the final quarter when it is too late to do very much.

The previous Friday it was cold shooting, Saturday it was the inability to stop the fast-breaking of Evergreen Park, and on last Friday evening it was just plain inability to make the right, accurate pass at the right time. At times, one felt that more passes were going away than Bremen was getting shots. This will not enhance your scoring!

Reavis started early and piled up a lead. True to the recent game pattern, Bremen actually grabbed the lead with a few minutes to go—but that was all they could do—grab it! Reavis soon moved back into the lead and Bremen had lost another close game.

They shoot with the best teams in the conference—can't they win? Why can't so the question is—why they? It points out again that a good basketball player must be good in every other department—as well as the shooting end.

Rebounding—at times rather good—has been a real problem for coach Brown of Bremen. His boys don't take many rebounds off the boards. L-W, them, and Henry DeVries of much smaller outbounded Oak Lawn, just an inch taller than one of the Bremen men—had a nice night with little competition.

Some nights they pass well—other nights they don't.

Spirit is what makes the defensive men get that extra step. How much of that do the Braves have?

Yes, there are four men who can hit in the double figures in most every game, but scoring—individually—is not winning a basketball game.

Jim Mannaoini, consistent scorer for the Braves, led the shooters with 24 points. This was Jim's best night of the young basketball season.

Jim Miffelin was good on six baskets and six free throws for 18 points.

Reavis' Jack Sakalosky hit the twenty mark.

Bremen was out hustled and out team played.

The Redmen have an open two weeks over the holidays. There are no holiday tournaments on its schedule.

The work is cut out for Coach Brown. Bremen is probably out of the SW Suburban race—but if the Braves are to make a run for it they are going to have to improve a great deal over the first four games.

Bremen's frosh-soph again had an evening when the beads of perspiration never reached the forehead. This marked the seventh straight victory for the Braves younger men. It was the fourth straight league win. Bremen will, no doubt, have one conference championship.

Rich Away in S W Loop

Rich certainly showed its class in defeating a scoring minded Evergreen Park at Evergreen, 96-71.

Until this contest—the Rock et-had been sputtering, but like the giant Atlas has probably orbited into its run for the SW Suburban Conference crown.

Evergreen has shown plenty of class in dropping a close game to Oak Lawn and defeating Bremen—but Rich was too much!

If Rich plays this kind of ball the remainder of the

Suburban Transit Given Authority To Hike Fares

(CNS) The Suburban Transit company, serving 5,000 riders daily in 11 suburbs and Chicago's southwest side, got a Christmas present a week early.

In an order entered Dec. 17 in Springfield, the Illinois Commerce Commission authorized the bus company to hike fares on five days notice.

The company has 29 zones where fares ranged from 20 to 50 cents. All weekday fares were raised 5 cents, with the exception of the 20 cent single zone fare. Sunday and holiday fares were increased 10 cents, or 5 cents more than weekday fare.

The line was allowed to replace 25 ride tickets with 10-ride tickets. This change amounts to about 2 cents more per ride.

The 46 ride student tickets also are up. These changes, involving terminals in Chicago: from Evergreen Park, up from $3.75 to $5.52; from Oak Lawn, up from $5 to $9.20; and from Chicago Ridge, Worth and Palos Heights, up from $6 to $10.12.

The company serves the suburbs of Evergreen Park, Oak Lawn, Chicago Ridge, Worth, Palos Heights, Palos Park, Alsip, Crestwood, Oak Forest, Argo and Stickney. The ICC said the new fares are "just and reasonable."

Association of Rabbit Breeders Elects Officers

The Tibbar Rabbit Breeders association elected the following officers at the meeting held at the Anfield home in Tinley Park: M. R. Montgomery, Tinley Park, president; Art Osman of Chicago, vice president; Lyman Anfield, Tinley Park, secretary and treasurer.

Those elected to the board of directors are: Art Lucchesi, Tinley Park; Don Reid of Lockport, George Thomas, Orland Park; Mrs. Geraldine Montgomery, Tinley Park; Albert McNabb, Homewood, and Phil Grede, Palos Heights.

The 25th anniversary Tibbar Rabbit show to be held in Sanger ballroom Feb. 5, was discussed. The next meeting will be at the Sunnyside Feed and Pet Shop, 152nd and Oak Park ave., at 8 p.m. Jan. 2.

"Tibbar", the name of the association, spells, (you guessed it) backwards.

Knights Are A Stubborn Lot; Good on Defense

Foul shots...foul shots...these are the goblins that haunt the Knight's roundtable over at New Lenox.

Foul shots were the point of sword that gave a highly thought of Oak Lawn team a victory, an unbeaten mark maintained, and continuance of second place in the SW Suburban League on Friday night at New Lenox, 63-46.

Lincoln-Way is turning out to be the defensive team in the conference. Large, Henry DeVries was held to three points in the first half by George Ruhle and Larry Iwema—and probably would not have reached much of anything, (he managed 14 for the game), if these two lads hadn't been thumbed to an early shower.

That pesky Knight wouldn't go down—as he did last Friday evening at Rich. Even with two missing from the roundtable, they fought the invaders from Oak Lawn to a near deadlock—just prior to the last period.

Then, already short the two regulars on the bench, the other three regulars succumbed to the whistle and the Oaks moved out to the eventual winning margin of 17-points.

"Oak Lawn's press didn't bother us. Don't get me wrong, Oak Lawn has a real good have beaten us by much more—but for one thing. My boys stopped their scoring punch of DeVries and Rademacher," reported Joe Kruzich. That they did, Joe!

In addition to his defensive work on DeVries, Larry Iwema was top scorer for the night with 16. DeVries was really stopped with 14. Borkowski had 10, and Rademacher was good for only six.

The high scoring Oak Lawn outfit was held to 26 points in the first half and could well have finished the game with 50 or less if fouls had not turned away Kruzich's starting team.

Lincoln-Way might have stunned the conference, but the shooting accuracy was a little off on the close-up shots. Fouls...and more foul shots.

The Knights have failed to win this season, as yet. Again the Lincoln-Way yearlings dropped a two-point decision, 32-30.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By DEAN DALLAS, Sports Editor

Which is the better league the SW Suburban or the South Suburban—this season? Many are asking the question! Certainly, the larger Chicago papers devote plenty of space to the South Suburban League, this would indicate the better competition!

Of course, there is only one way to compare the two leagues—that is by the results of games played between them this season—1958-59. This, no doubt, has its pitfalls!

Let us begin with Argo. Argo was beaten at Bloom by five points—Bloom is currently running second in the South Suburban League. Bremen defeated Argo in the season's opener by a 61-49 count—thus it would appear that the fifth ranked SW Suburban team should be able to defeat the South Suburban number two team.

Rich of the S W Suburban easily took Kankakee, 61-49 at Kankakee. Blue Island was able to beat Kankakee by two points—at Blue Island. Bremen, the next evening scattered the Cardinals by a 72-54 count.

Carl Sandburg, considered one of the weakest teams in the conference, one which was not expected to win many games—tho they have already won two—was just nipped by Blue Island—at Blue Island early in the season. Sandburg has since improved under Coach Adams.

Reavis, an up and down team in the SW beat Thornton Fraction of the South Suburban league by 9 points. Yes that doesn't seem to point to much basketball talent for the South Suburban Conference.

Oak Lawn was able to nip Argo—at Argo—the Argoites are plenty tough at home—by a basket.

The only other victory that the South Suburban can claim is Thornton Fractionals close victory over Bremen. The Braves have not looked worse—thus far this season.

It is true that you cannot really compare by game scores—but it would seem that some comparison can be drawn when the record compiled by one league against the other appears rather dominant. SW Suburban has won 5 and lost 2 to the South Suburban.

It is true that Bloom has not been met by any SW Suburban School, but the Chicago Heights team is having its troubles beating such as Argo Thornton Fractional, and the like.

Thornton has not been included in the discussion—thus far. It would seem that

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

We still hear people talking of December and January being poor times to invest. As a matter of fact, the market usually rises in December and early January. On an "average" the market low of December is about 5 percent below the high of January.

It is difficult to buy an "average" as, for example, the New York Stock Exchange has more than 1500 stocks listed. Each of the firms represented by those shares, is an individual company and with individual fortunes and misfortunes.

Over and over it has been proven that the time to invest is when funds are available. Only crystal clear hindsight points up the periods when investment could have been made most advantageously. The most successful investment method has been regular amounts at regular periods without regard to market prices or apparent conditions at the particular time. There never has been an ideal time to invest except in hindsight.

The year 1958 is closing on very cheerful business news. The estimate of automobile sales for 1959 has been raised to about 6 million cars. Strikes have held back expansion of auto sales. The increase should be felt in the many lines affected by auto production.

Christmas retail sales are expected to break records. The increase over 1957 is expected to be close to $1 billion and to be spread generally thru all lines, including washers, dryers, television sets etc.

Steel production which usually slows down this time of year, is holding at 75 percent of capacity.

Electric power, another record high and expected to show about a 6 percent gain over a year ago.

Natural gas pipe lines are expected to be aggressively expanded in 1959. The U. S. Supreme Court upset a lower court's decision which the industry felt was unfair and made expansion unprofitable.

The result will be addition of considerable gas supplies to the many needing additional gas. Standard & Poor's Investment Service has made a list of those industries most favorably situated and likely to benefit from business increases in 1959.

Automobiles, Building (cement), Chemicals, Coal (bituminous), Copper, Machinery (agricultural) machinery (earth moving & construction), Machinery (steam generating), Oil (crude producers), Oil (integrated companies), Oil (international).

Paper, Railroads, Rayon and Acetate yarn, Retail Trade (Dept. stores), Steel and Textile Weavers.

The oils have been somewhat neglected due to over production which was due somewhat to the Suez Canal crisis, and the political move of Egypt's Nasser. Now it appears that Nasser's grandiose plans for control of the Middle East and its oil revenues, is not at all likely of success in the near future. It would have been nice to have these oil revenues pouring into poverty-stricken Egypt, but the peoples of the areas of the oil itself, want these revenues at home. An important point is that the big bulk of this oil goes to customers of the western world. Russia has desired control of the Mideast long before the advent of the Communists in Russia. History shows us that Russian expansionist moves are no different than those of the Czars. The Communists have merely been more ruthless and more successful.

Pipe Navy Chief 'Over The Side'

Frank C. Guetter, of 1301 West 135th st, Orland Park, was honored at retirement ceremonies on Sunday, Dec. 14, at the Naval Air Station at Glenview. He is a Chief Aviation Redman, and retired after 15 years of service.

For the past ten years, Guetter has acted as leading chief of Naval Air Reserve squadrons VPML 54 and VP 721, attending drills on one weekend each month. Each year, with his squadron, he has "cruised" for 14 days of active duty.

Chief Guetter enlisted as an Season Apprentice in October 1930, and served on various destroyers assigned to Destroyer Forces until 1936. After three years as a full time civilian, he reenlisted in the Naval Reserve at NAS Glenview in 1939. His squadron, VS 9, was activated in 1940. During the next six years, he served on the USS Heywood, a Navy transport, the old USS Ranger, with VS 38, the sea plane tender Albermarle, known as "Able Mable", and then was sent to Dunkeswell, England, where he lent his talents to VP 203 and VB 110.

Guetter acquired the DFC for assisting in sinking the Nazi Submarine U-805 in 1944. He was also awarded four Air Medals and the Purple Heart. In 1943 his plane was forced to "ditch" in the English Channel, and he spent 26 hours in a life raft.

Chief Guetter owns the Alert Detective Agency at 11 South LaSalle, and is a captain in the Palos Park police department. He is the first Organized Reservist to be retired at Glenview Naval Air Station.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC—

er of arrest as a trooper.

Morris said that 20 of the unmarked cars will patrol the northern section of the State with the remaining 17 scattered throughout the central and southern Illinois.

Illinois radio and television stations will participate in the Traffic Condition Red program by broadcasting safety messages throughout the holiday.

Campbell said he hopes the alert will prompt drivers to be especially watchful for potential accidents during the holiday.

He urged motorists to help reduce traffic hazards by making driving "a full time job". Speeding and driving after drinking are particularly dangerous during the holiday season, he said, because they add to the hazards already created by heavy traffic and the usual winter driving hazards.

Illinois traffic accidents claimed 15 lives during the Christmas season last year. However, Campbell pointed out, the holiday last year was only three days in length while the Christmas holidays this year last four days and six hours.

The Christmas safety campaign opened Dec. 15 with "Traffic Condition Yellow". This alert was designed to warn motorists of holiday driving hazards before the holiday actually began.

"This education forms the common mind: Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

Real estate is re-assessed every four years. This was the year for it to be done in Will county.

Former treasurer Floyd Krapf announced before the assessors took the field that if the valuations were brought up this year to equal 55% of their market price, it was his understanding that the state department of revenue would give the county a multiplier of one.

Under state law the state department of revenue furnishes each county with a factor, which if used as a multiplier will bring the assessed valuation up to so-called full valuation which in reality would be 55% of the market price. After the multiplier is used the figure obtained is called the equalized assessed valuation. Thus if a factor of one is given Will county the assessed valuation would become the equalized assessed valuation. It was to get such a figure that the present assessment was launched.

According to the books at the court house, New Lenox, Frankfort and Crete townships have been assessed much lower than the other townships. It is also stated that while the other townships now have such valuations that a one factor would be insured, New Lenox, Frankfort and Crete are still below them. The figures for these three townships are said to range from 31 to 33 per cent of the fair market value instead of 55 per cent.

It is all unofficial but from usually reliable sources it was learned that the department of revenue will not give a one factor to the county because of the three townships named above but it is expected to be close—possibly ranging from 1.02 to 1.04.

OH, BROTHER!

From Farm Journal: "Government agents in Indiana impounded the two tractors that a farmer owns. In Michigan, they tie up a farmer's $3,400 bank account. Two Oklahoma ranchers are hauled into court in Dallas, Tex., and sued for $502.06.

"What crimes did these men commit? They planted wheat beyond the 30-acre limit, to feed their own stock, without a government permit or allotment! Government agents aren't to blame—they're only enforcing a law that Congress passed. Nevertheless in this land of the free events seem incredible! How ridiculous can a law get? When the lawmakers return in January, let's change it."

Yule not always celebrated Dec. 25

Like Easter, Christmas was once a movable feast, celebrated on a different date each year.

In 337 A.D. St. Cyril, bishop of Jerusalem, with the permission of Pope Junius I, appointed a commission to determine, if possible, the precise date of Christ's nativity.

The theologians finally agreed upon December 25, and since the year 354 this date has been celebrated.

"CHRISTMAS"

It happend on one Christmas Eve
That God looked down and cried.
He gazed upon the earth below
With grief He could not hide.
The world He'd made with His own hands,
And saved with His own blood—
Once more it lay in war and hate,
And sin, as black as mud.
Those blessed tears fell down through space,
And pure as snow they came.
Covering up with a blanket of white,
A world of sin and shame.
Then God called Goodness to His side
And asked Him to depart
Down to the earth to wake mankind,
And comfort every heart.
So swiftly down to earth He came
And knocked, and begged, and cried,
"Open your hearts and let me in
For there would I abide."
So, being it was Christmas Day,
The world said: "Do come in.
But you may stay for just this day,
I must return to sin."
And so it was on Christmas Day
That God looked down and smiled.
Upon the hearts where Goodness reigned
And hate had been defiled.
Too soon the day was over,
But Goodness would not leave.
He stayed and pleaded, called, and knocked,
He cried and begged, and grieved.
He'll always be there knocking
At the hearts of all mankind,
Bringing gifts of love and joy,
New hope, and peace of mind.
Let it be not only Christmas,
That our hearts abandon sin,
But give our love to Him, above,
That He might dwell within.

Nativity Theme Most Popular

The Nativity theme is by far the most popular of all Christmas card illustrations. Many are reproductions from the old masters, but each year others are created especially for the Christmas card industry.

Winter scenes are next in popularity. Some of these scenes date back to the work of early masters but in recent years many new artists, such as Grandma Moses, have achieved fame in this field. For over a century, American artists have aided the industry by painting Christmas themes or by selling reproduction rights to their works.

We wish all our friends a very joyous and cheerful Christmas Season.

A President's Sons Revolted Against Ban on Christmas Trees

Teddy Roosevelt almost rode roughshod over the Christmas tree in his drive to conserve the nation's forests. But two little boys put the Christmas spirit—and the tree—back in the White House.

The Christmas tree was well-established in the United States when TR became president.

Research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia say a Harvard professor named Charles Follen set up one of the first known trees in America in 1832.

President Franklin Pierce put up a tree in the White House in the 1850's to entertain the Sunday school of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church. And President Benjamin Harrison continued the custom in the 1890's.

But some modern-day Scrooges convinced Roosevelt that the cutting of Christmas trees would soon deplete the nation's forests. T. R. promptly banned the tradition at the White House.

However, the old Roughrider forgot to consult his young sons. Archie and Quentin cared little about presidential edicts—and less about conservation. They smuggled a tree into the mansion on Pennsylvania Avenue and set it up in Archie's room.

The President relented, and ever since, the White House has had an indoor Christmas tree.

T. R.'s concession also sent the Christmas tree industry soaring beyond the dreams of one of its founders—a Catskill farmer who brought his trees to market in New York City in 1851. And it helped pave the way for a new custom—the community Christmas tree.

In 1924, a Norway spruce was planted near the White House and later dedicated as "a national living Christmas tree."

Two years later, a giant California redwood in King's Canyon national park, named General Grant after the Civil War hero, was dedicated as the "Nation's Christmas Tree."

Reaching 267 feet into the sky from a base 40 feet thick, the tree is second largest in the world.

Every year, nearby townspeople and visitors join in a holiday service and sing carols at the base of the sequoia, which was growing on the mountain slope when Christ was born in Bethlehem.

"Experience is something I always think I have, until I get more."—Burton Hills.

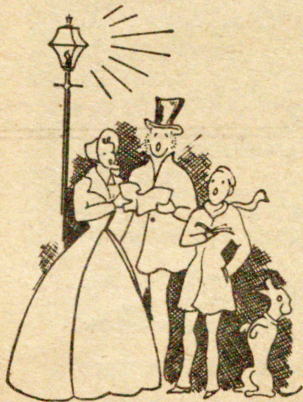

We're ringing out our wishes to all our wonderful friends and patrons for the happiest of holidays... warm with fellowship and good cheer.

The custom of making New Year's resolutions can be traced to a peacock. The colorful bird was a favorite Christmas dish in early England, according to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia. It was customary for knights to take the "vow of the peacock" by making their pledge for the new year with their right hand on the peacock.

Discarded trees can be usable after Christmas

Many people find they have a problem of disposing of their Christmas tree after it is taken down. There are a number of things that can be done with it.

It can be put in the yard, if you live in a cold, snowy area, and from it you can hang suet, pieces of meat and dry bread for the birds.

Or, you can cut off the long branches and plant them as wind-breaks to protect outdoor plantings. Teepees can be built around exposed shrubs and tended plants. This will protect them from wind and prevents snow and ice from accumulating and bending the plants out of shape.

Whatever you do, don't burn it in the fireplace, no matter how small it may be.

Superstitions Associated With Christmas

JOHN W. ALLEN
(So. Ill. Univ.)

At this time for the past several years this column has told something of the origin, history and lore of Christmas and of Santa Claus. Little has been said, however, about the many superstitions that have become associated with the day, superstitions that relate to subjects varying from ashes and luck to weather. Since weather is always present and comes in for frequent discussion, some of the superstitions connecting it with Christmas come to mind.

According to one of the more common of the weather superstitions, it is not difficult to know how many snows may be expected during the winter. It is easy to determine. One has only to observe the date of the first snow and count the intervening days until Christmas to know the number of snows expected. This method gives a second chance to those who neglected to count the foggy mornings in August. For anyone who wishes to check the validity of this superstition, the first snowfall in this area came on Nov. 23. This obviously would assure 27 snows during the approaching winter, making it a "long hard winter".

There were other queer snow beliefs associated with the Christmas season. As examples, a snowy or white Christmas foretold a green Easter, fewer deaths in the coming year, and thus a "lean graveyard". The reverse of this superstition also was circulated. If Christmas were green or sunny, Easter would be cold and graveyards would grow "fat". A snowy Christmas also foretold a good fruit crop. If the wind were from the south, the prospects for a good peach crop were especially good.

By this same stock of superstitions, those wishing to know more about rain for each month of the coming year could gain that information by the use of a dozen onions (small were as good as large) and a few spoons of salt.

The end of each onion was cut and a small cavity was made in it. Into each hollowed cut an equal amount of salt was placed, and the onions were arranged in an ordered row on a shelf or table and named for the months of the year. They then were not disturbed and it was best that no one went near them. The next morning some of the named onions would have water in the cavities to foretell the rainy months. One more condition was to be observed. This entire ritual of preparation was to be carried out between 10 o'clock and midnight on Christmas Eve.

Other Christmas superstitions had to do with foods. If a head of cabbage was tied to the ceiling and nails driven into it, good luck for the coming year was assured. If one lacked the cabbage head and nails, he could secure equally good results by eating pork and blackeyed peas. If neither of the foregoing was available, the one wishing to have good luck could eat sauerkraut with equally good effects.

If one had a dog that he wished to guard against hydrophobia he had only to feed the pet some silver filings on buttered bread. The superstition does not say whether it should be toasted. This was to be done on Christmas Eve, but if the owner failed to do so, then equally good results could be had by feeding the same ration on New Year's Eve or the Eve of Epiphany. A superstition that came to Illinois from Germany offered farmers assurance that their livestock would be safe during the coming year from damage by witches if the stables were cleaned between Christmas and New Year's Day.

On Christmas Eve, the spirits talked and animals could talk to them at midnight. A child born on Christmas Day was gifted with the power to see spirits and to understand the speech of animals. This chain of superstitions would provide some interesting results if only animals could be induced to talk.

Roosters crowing at night usually presaged bad luck. This did not hold true, however, at Christmas time. There were certain tasks that should not be done at Christmas. Ashes were not to be removed and no woman was to sew or knit between Christmas and the fourth day of the new year.

Any girl curious to know how many Christmas presents she could expect to receive, simply counted the number of white spots in her fingernails just before Dec. 25. If an umbrella was received among the gifts, it resulted in a broken friendship. It was bad luck to kill a fly on Christmas or to leave Christmas greens up after the New Year. It was good luck to you thruout the year if you were the first to greet anyone with a shouted "Merry Christmas". At least one superstition offered a ray of hope to boys. If he took a bath on Christmas day he would stay clean all the year.

These are among the many strange beliefs that have grown up about Christmas. Some people at some time evidently believed some of them. Perhaps later people will be listing some of our beliefs and smiling at them as we do at the samples given here.

CHRISTMAS TRIM

For fun and a Christmas conversation-piece, trim a small tree with unusual items that fit into your home's decor. If an oriental flavor will do, miniature fans and parasols make a delightful way to trim. Search the party-favors shops for similar ways to add gaiety to your home.

Some Holiday Sweets That Taste Good But Have Low Calory Count

You can enjoy Christmas sweets without eating excess-calories.

A mixture of ground, dried fruits, moistened with enough lemon juice to hold them together and pressed into small balls make a tasty and nutritious sweet, says Mrs. Pearl Janssen, University of Illinois food specialist.

Fresh grapes look like glittering, frosted balls when you dip them in slightly beaten egg whites and then in granulated sugar. You can also arrange them as a centerpiece for your table—a centerpiece that's good to eat.

For another treat, slice a banana diagonally, spread with salad dressing and roll in toasted crumbled coconut. Eat this sweet soon after you make it or it will darken.

Polvoron as made in the Philippines is a sweet that children especially can enjoy. It's easy to make and nutritious, and by adding different flavors and colors to various portions of the mixture, you can get variety from one basic recipe.

Polvoron

1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup dried milk
1/4 cup butter, melted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla or other

flavoring
1/2 cup nuts, chopped
(optional)

Roast flour in a heavy cast iron skillet by placing over direct heat and stirring constantly. Cook until there is no uncooked starch flavor. Mix flour, sugar and milk together thoroly. Add melted butter, vanilla and nuts. Mix well. Press in small mold, such as butter mold. Remove carefully to hold the shape.

Wrap each piece in colored paper and keep in sight for your holiday callers.

AUTO OWNERS ARE EASY TO PLEASE AT CHRISTMAS

For drivers who care for their cars, auto accessories present a wonderful gift!

Luxury items may be all he or she needs, but they'll love the addition of those. Among the many items you may select are visor dispensers, compass, dash tray, tissue holders, safety light, mirrors, a car radio, and others.

A dispenser that issues cigarettes, lighted, is a fine gift for the smoker.

There's an almost unending list of articles that are really practical.

Christmas tree legends vary

There are many legends about decorating the Christmas tree. One dates back to Boniface, who as England's missionary to Germany in the 8th century, "replaced the sacrifice to Odin's sacred oak to a fir tree adorned in tribute to the Christ child".

Others say that the tree and its candles should be attributed to Luther. Another says the practice dates to the Teutonic practice of bringing trees into homes to appease the god-like spirits that were believed to inhabit forest timbers.

But there is a legend more beautiful than all the rest. According to it, when Christ was born a group of stars looked down upon an olive tree, a date palm and a pine tree which stood over the manger.

Seeing that the pine had nothing to offer in His honor while the others gave fruit and dates, they descended from the heavens to rest upon the pine's boughs as an offering—and that was the first Christmas tree.

burning of Christmas trees, is derived from the custom of early Christians who celebrated the feast of the Nativity of Christ for 12 days, placing special emphasis on the last, or twelfth day. The "Twelfth Night" tree burning is also said to commemorate the light of the Star of Bethlehem.

Mistletoe once symbol of evil

Today mistletoe is recognized throughout the world as a symbol of lasting peace and from this has come the custom of giving a kiss of love or peace beneath it.

Once, however, it was considered a weapon of death. Later it was considered a magical medicine.

It was a mistletoe arrow, according to Norse mythology, that Loki used to kill Balder, the sun god, after Balder's mother had obtained a promise from all living things, other than mistletoe, that they would not harm him.

Balder was restored to life and it was ruled by the gods that the mistletoe would never again be used to do harm.

Here's How 'Xmas' Came Into Being

Why is "Christmas" sometimes written "Xmas"?

"X" is the Greek letter symbol that is used to represent the name, "Christ."

This symbol has been discovered by many archaeological expeditions on the wall of early-Christian catacombs.

Quite recently, a group of scientists discovered the name of Jesus, carved before 70 A.O., among the inscriptions on 11 early-Christian urns.

These urns were uncovered in a cave on the Bethlehem to Jerusalem Road.

It is believed that these writings were left by a sect of Hebrews who were followers of Christ and who had denounced Pontius Pilate.

Here's Christmas cheer to all our friends and patrons. We thank you for your loyalty and good will, and we hope your holidays will be a time of high happiness, deep contentment, gifts galore!

--- And for Today's Virginias The Answer Stands — 'Yes, Indeed'

(It was only September, and 1897's Christmas was three months in the future. But Virginia O'Hanlon's concern was with an important problem that, to her, knew no season. That was why she wrote her letter to the New York Sun asking "Is there a Santa Claus?" The answer to Virginia's question, composed in a moment of deep spiritual insight by Francis B. Church, stands even today as a testament of faith.)

"Yes, indeed!"

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age—they do not believe except what they see—they think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

"All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little.

"In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

"He exists as certainly as love and generosity, and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies!

"You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus—the most real things in the world are those neither children nor men can see.

"Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there—no body can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even united strength of all the strongest men, that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside the curtain and view the picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond.

"Is it all real?—ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding. No Santa Claus!

"Thank God!—he lives, and he lives forever—a thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Christmas Gift Ideas For HIM

"How nice you look"—"How good you smell"—... are compliments that 'turn a man's head' as quick as a lady's—though he won't be so ready to admit it!

For a very nice gift this Christmas, give him a gay box of matching-scent cologne and after-shave.

A box of shaving needs for at home or packed in a traveling case will also please him.

An electric razor, for home or car, in a type suited to his beard, will save him more than enough time each morning for a second cup of coffee. (He'll thank you for that!)

Other wonderful - to - receive items you might give are a manicure kit, club-style or military brush, and a big bar of bath soap tied with a nylon cord (saves tempers often lost in locating an elusive bar.)

CANDLE "TIP"

For an inexpensive, large candle decoration—wrap a square paper milk carton in any bright Christmas paper. Add a paper "flame" to the top with cello phane tape. Its lovely!
